

Citizenship Activity

Make a list of as many things as possible that you can find in and around your home which come from different countries. If you have a map or a globe at home, plot the origins of the items on a map of the world.

Key questions to think about or discuss:

- Why are so many things imported?
- Which countries supply the most manufactured goods? Are these developing countries?
- Should we buy inexpensive goods which may have been made using child labour?
- Does it make sense to transport goods across the world when they could be manufactured here?
- How could people in developing countries be better employed?
- Should we always buy the cheapest goods?
